Press Release

LeaseSoft Asset Document Manager module on general release

London: 11th August 2006

NetSol Technologies a leading provider of software to the financial services industry announces general availability of its integrated Document Management module for LeaseSoft Asset, and LeaseSoft Premium Finance, its flagship software solutions.

Production and retrieval of documents has all too often been a time consuming task and one prone to error, usually through the need to re-key data into the system, or to search files for mislaid documents. LeaseSoft Document Manager brings a high level of process automation and workflow to the production, distribution and receipt of business documentation. Significantly, Document Manager has been designed as an integral component of LeaseSoft Asset in preference to considering the integration of a third party document solution.

Document Manager is provided with a comprehensive set of Microsoft Word templates that can be readily adapted to match the requirements of the business. The Document Manager provides an easy to use facility to edit and compile multiple document sets and to specify the rules under which document sets will be selected. This allows support for multi-company requirements and portfolio management by allowing document sets to be branded to suit individual business requirements.

Production of outbound documents is achieved by automatically merging data with the chosen document set and creating an Adobe PDF which is then indexed by the system for subsequent reference against the client or contract. Documents can be distributed through hardcopy, fax and email to multiple recipients (e.g. client and broker) Document Manager also provides scanning, indexing and retrieval of all inbound documentation for business partners, contacts and assets (spreadsheets, digital images, asset and contact data) thereby creating a single repository for all client and contract information. Configurable audit and security features are integral to the system, showing who, when and how documents were issued and who is permitted to retrieve and view them.

Gary Lowrey, Commercial Director, commenting on the new enhancements for LeaseSoft Asset said: "We see a strong demand in the industry and across our customer base to reduce costs and improve efficiency across all business processes. Document Manager brings a high level of process automation into the business and an opportunity to improve client satisfaction. As it is offered as a modular option with LeaseSoft Asset there can be no concerns about its integration with existing LeaseSoft Asset systems, providing benefits that can be quickly realised."

NetSol Technologies has already signed and delivered Document Manager to five clients
